

Course Outcomes for HMTS 110A-E

The following are working course outcomes. These outcomes will be reviewed by the NWIC Curriculum Committee during the curricular review process in 2017 with the intent of creating and approving course outcomes.

At the completion of this course students will be able to:

1. demonstrate an intermediate knowledge of the scope of five interrelated humanities disciplines.
2. demonstrate critical thinking skills in the five interrelated humanities disciplines through written projects and oral communication activities.
3. demonstrate knowledge of personal and tribal humanities influences and relate these to other tribal, immigrant, and European influences at the intermediate level.
4. identify and utilize local and regional humanities resources and events.
