

Course Outcomes: NASD 137

Regalia Making I

The following are working course outcomes. These outcomes will be reviewed by the NWIC Curriculum Committee during the curricular review process in 2017 with the intent of creating and approving course outcomes.

At the completion of this course students will be able to:

- Design, identify and prepare materials at the basis level for making regalia (not costumes) for display and use in ceremonial song and dance
- Describe strategies and ways to sew and make patterns at the basic level
- Produce regalia for their own usage at the basic level
- Explain aspects of contemporary Pow-Wow culture at the basic level
