

Course Outcomes: PTAD 230

Tribal Organizational Theory & Development

The following are working course outcomes. These outcomes will be reviewed by the NWIC Curriculum Committee during the curricular review process in 2017 with the intent of creating and approving course outcomes.

Upon the completion of this course students will be able to:

- Examine basic models of organizational development
- Identify tribal jurisdiction in the field of a tribal governance building
- Examine the role of administration, tribal council, and other interests in organizational development
- Examine basic levels of public organizational structure and the relationships impacting tribal government