This Manual contains the essential fiscal policies of the Northwest Indian College, as determined by the U.S. government and other funding sources of the Northwest Indian College, applicable to grants and sub-grants as of the date of promulgation. From time to time, as additional matters require promulgation or changes to this Manual are appropriate, officials of the Northwest Indian College may amend this Manual.

SECTION 200 INTERNAL CONTROL POLICIES

201 General Business Conduct and Disclosure

In general, the Code of Ethics of the Board of Trustees and the Staff of Northwest Indian College shall govern questions of ethical concern.

203 Compliance with Laws

A) Disclosure of Organization Information

The organization's student, grant, financial and administrative information are valuable, intangible property assets. Protection of this information is vital to NWIC's continued growth and ability to provide quality services to students. Besides, unauthorized licensure of student information may be violation of the Privacy Act or applicable state law.

Under our country's laws, this type of information is treated as intellectual property, usually in the form of information, knowledge or know-how, the possession of which gives the owner some advantage over other organizations that do not possess it. To be protected under law, such information must not be generally or publicly know or must be patented or copyrighted if publicly disclosed. The organization's intellectual property assets are not always of a technical nature. Typical of such information are:

- A. Service information about specific students or grants
- B. Organization business, research and new service plans
- C. Operating plans
- D. Salary, wage and benefits data
- E. Employee, funding source and student lists

This list, while obviously not complete, suggests the wide scope and variety of organization information that must be safeguarded. Special safeguards should be observed for organization student, grant, financial, or administrative information. Such information is usually marked with a notice that imposes restrictions on the need to know within the organization. Even without these classifications, knowledge pertinent to work should remain in the office upon completion of the day's work. Upon leaving the employment of the College, the former employee's legal obligation is to protect the organization's intellectual property until it becomes clear that it has become publicly available or the organization no longer considers it necessary to restrict its use. Correspondence, printed matter, documents or records of any kind, specific process knowledge, procedures, and special organization ways of doing things are all the property of and must remain at the organization.

B) Political Contributions

No government funds or assets of the organization must be contributed to any political party or organization or to any individual who either holds public office or is a candidate for public office. The direct or indirect use of any funds or other assets of the College for political contributions in any form, whether in cash or other property, services, or the use of facilities, is strictly prohibited. This rule applies both inside and outside the United State, except in those cases permitted by law and expressly authorized by the Governing Body of the Northwest Indian College.

Following are examples of prohibited activities:

1. Contributions by an employee that are reimbursed through expense accounts or in other ways.
2. Purchase by the organization of tickets for political fundraising events.
3. Contributions in kind, such as lending employees to political parties or using organization assets in political campaigns.
4. Indirect contributions by the organization through suppliers, funding sources or agents.

C) Government Officials

Employees and related personnel of Northwest Indian College are legally prohibited from offering, promising, or bestowing money, gifts, loans, rewards, services, use of facilities, lavish or extensive entertainment, or other favors to a government official or employee with a view toward influencing or inducing such official or employee to use his/her influence to effect an action or decision. Employees must refrain from such acts.

This includes any employee of a Federal, state or local government agency.

No employee of Northwest Indian College will offer, give, or promise to offer or give, directly or indirectly any money, gratuities or other thing of value to any U.S. government employee with current or possible responsibility on an award of the organization.

The provisions of this code apply fully to anyone who acts for the organization. For example, an employee may not allow an agent to act on behalf of the organization. If anyone knows or has reason to believe that the agent would disregard the code or any law in performing duties, bring it to the attention of the President.

The provisions in this section are not intended to prohibit traditional native practices of gift-giving in thanks or recognition.

D) Commercial Bribery

Employees and related personnel are not allowed to make a payment either directly or indirectly or as a kickback to influence someone else, nor are you allowed to accept anything of value from someone who wants to do business with the organization. With the exception of government officials acting on a procurement, inexpensive advertising and promotional items are not considered to have “value,” and an occasional business meal may be accepted or given if it has a value of under $25.

In some business relationships outside the government, an occasional gift is appropriate as provided for in the College Code of Ethics.

If you are asked to make or accept a payment or gift in any form prohibited by this code, report the matter to your supervisor immediately.

E) Record Keeping

To provide an accurate and auditable record of all financial transactions, Northwest Indian College books, records, and accounts must be maintained in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Managers and directors are responsible for safeguarding organization assets and for maintaining an auditable record of financial transactions.

Further, the organization specifically requires that:

1. No funds or accounts may be established or maintained for purposes that are not fully and accurately described on the books and records of the organization.
2. Receipts and disbursements must be fully and accurately described on the books and records of the organization.
3. No false entries may be made on the books or records nor any false or misleading reports issued.
4. Payments may be made only to the granting party or a valid assigned party and only for the actual services rendered or products delivered. No false or fictitious invoices may be paid.

If you have reason to believe that the organization’s books and records are not in accord with the forgoing requirements, report the matter to the President.

205 Employee Conflict of Interest

Please refer to NWIC Policies and Procedures and Board Code of Ethics and Conflict of Interest statement. A conflict of interest exists if certain of our outside business or other interests may adversely affect your motivation or performance.

207 Ethical Standards in Bidding, Negotiation and Performance of U.S. Government Awards

- B. Employees involved in the negotiation of grants will make all reasonable efforts to assure that all statements, communications and representations to funding source representatives are accurate and current. Care should be taken by personnel in a position to know that there are no material substitutions from specifications and the products meet or exceed contractual specifications.

208 Organizational Conflict of Interest or Self-Dealing

Organization will strictly observe the laws, rules and regulations, which govern acquisitions of good and services by the U.S. Government. Northwest Indian College may not be organized and operated for the benefit of an affiliated or unaffiliated organization or an individual in his or her own private capacity, unless the private benefit is considered merely incidental. This private benefit preclusion will extend to:

- A. Sale or exchange, or leasing, or property between the agency and an affiliated or unaffiliated organization or a private individual
- B. Lending of money or other extension of credit between an agency and an affiliated or unaffiliated organization or a private individual

Legal fees incurred specifically in connection with the final cost objective will be allocated as a direct cost. Minor amounts of direct legal fees and all legal fees benefiting more than one cost objective will be treated as an indirect cost.

619 Contributed Services and Materials

A. Contributed services in the form of volunteer services will be recognized if all of the following conditions exist.

- 1) The services performed are significant and form an integral part of the efforts of the organization.
- 2) The organization controls the employment and duties of the service donors.
- 3) The organization has a clearly reasonable basis for the amount to be recorded.
- 4) The services of the reporting organization are not intended for the benefit of its members.

B. Materials received as support will be recorded based on their estimated fair market value. When a reasonable fair market value cannot be determined, no support should be recognized.

621 In-Kind Costs

A. To satisfy a matching or cost-sharing requirement on a grant or contract, Northwest Indian College will account for the following allowable in-kind costs:

1. Charges incurred by Northwest Indian College as project costs, including non-case items such as depreciation or use charges.
2. Project costs financed with cash contributed or donated to the organization by non-Federal third parties or in the case of Federal funds, or other Federal funds specifically authorized by law for matching.
3. Project costs represented by services and real or personal property donated to the grantee by non-Federal third parties, provided such costs are:

- a) Identifiable from grantee records
- b) Not included as contributions for all other Federally assisted programs
- c) Necessary and reasonable for proper and efficient accomplishment of project objectives
- d) Allowable if the grantee itself was required to pay for them

B. Several items are not normally counted as in-kind.

- 1) Goods and services normally available free in the community and which would be available whether you operated the project or not, e.g., CPR training, space in a community center, etc.
- 2) Donated overtime of project staff whose regular working hours are paid with Federal funds.
- 3) Contributed time of elected officials of the Board of Directors and Advisory Councils.
- 4) Value of space donated for meetings and other purposes in the homes of individuals, especially staff members.
- 5) Outdoor space such as playgrounds, park space and undeveloped lots.

C. Valuation of third-party, in-kind contributions:

- 1) Volunteer services: unpaid services valued at rates paid by other activities of the organization should be consistent with those paid for similar work in the same labor market. Rates of employees of other agencies should be priced at the base compensation rate exclusive of fringe benefits and overhead costs.
- 2) Donated real or tangible personal property:
 - a) Tangible personal property and donated real property (land and buildings): purchase price or fair market value at the time of transfer.
 - b) Donated use of property: valued as if the grantee has rented the property and has paid the property's fair rental value.
 - c) Grantees may be required to establish the value of real property through the use of an appraiser.
 - d) Other charges: adequately supported and permissible. Charges must be reasonable and property justified.

623 In-Kind Contributions, Valuation of Programs will not declare an hourly rate for volunteer time of more than $15 an hour without granting agency prior approval. In-kind contributions for volunteer time should be listed under “Other Non-Federal Resources.

625 Accounting for In-Kind Costs, Acceptable Methods of

- A. By way of background, there are three accepted methods of accounting for in-kind costs: (1) a book of original entry, (2) general journal entries supported by worksheets detailing the in-kind costs, and (3) worksheet entries without recording in-kind in the institution’s official books of account.
- B. There is considerable concern that recording in-kind costs in the books of account could distort the financial position of the College, especially when more than minimum match is reflected. On the other hand, a true picture of the College’s ability to achieve its mission would not be reflected if in-kind costs were not fully reflected.
- C. In situations where in-kind services, equipment or space represented a major element whereby the agency can achieve its overall mission, in-kind costs should be recorded in the books of account in a special in-kind book of original entry or a general journal entry.

627 In-Kind Costs, Documentation of Northwest Indian College will obtain the same kind of documentation, to be retained for the same period of time, as required for incurred costs. To the extent feasible and practical, the organization will obtain independently generated documentation for in-kind costs: time sheets or lo-in sheets for donated labor, written verification of the value of donated equipment or space, etc.

629 Sub-grant Awards

- A. The Federal Grant and Cooperative Agreement Act of 1977, 41 USC 501 et seq., as repealed by PL 97-258, 5(b) provided guidance to awarding agencies in making the determination between a grant vs. a contract. The Act defines two basic categories: “procurement activities,” where contracts are to be used and “assistance activities,” where grants or cooperative agreements are to be used. The major distinction is whether the transaction is an “acquisition”, in which case a contract is to be used, vs. A “support arrangement,” in which case a grant is to be used.
- B. An acquisition is found where the result of the performance is “for the direct benefit or use” of the organization. This benefit would be occasioned by the “acquiring by purchase, lease or barter [of] property or services.

Contracts, or procurement actions, are always entered into to meet an awarding party's need for a particular product or service. Such agreements establish mutual rights and obligations of the awarding party as buyer and the contractor as the seller. The awarding party has rights it may or may not choose to exercise.

Under contracts, the awarding party pinpoints the particular products, the awarding party pinpoints the particular product or service to be obtained. This could be stated as a unit of service provided the unit is measurable. In addition to its measurability, any quality standards should be spelled out.

Cost of the product or unit of service is usually a major factor in making an award to otherwise qualified bidders. Since the interests of the contractor are not overwhelming considerations in such relationships, an awarding party may cancel for convenience (with recovery of some costs by the contractor) and for cause in cases of significant nonperformance.

- C. The objective of a grant are defined as general support, stimulation, equalization and demonstration. Such financial assistance may be awarded for obtaining support or building capacity. This type of assistance relationship is one featured by the granting agency serving in the role of a "patron (supporter) or partner."
- D. Finally, selection of the instrument to be used in a specific situation will determine many of the procedures to be followed in entering into the arrangement because of the regulatory guidance applicable to the different instruments. If a contract is used, the Purchasing Officer must follow the applicable procurement regulations, which are detailed in the Purchasing System Policies Manual. If a grant is used, there will be much more latitude to the awarding agency.
- E. Based upon a determination of Northwest Indian College, sub-grants may be awarded competitively or non-competitively. Irrespective of how awarded, all sub-grants should:
 - 1) Contain a provision for compliance with OMB Circular A-102
 - 2) Provide for all clauses required by Federal statute and executive orders and their implementing regulations.
 - 3) Ensure that sub-grantees are aware of requirements imposed upon them by Federal statutes and regulations.
- F. Northwest Indian College will insert in any request for grant application a certificate-precluding award to "high-risk grantees" as defined by OMB Circular A-102.

631 Acquisition Cost of Material

- A. When the cost objective was specifically identified at the time of purchase or production, the cost of material acquired for a final cost objective will be treated as a direct cost of that cost objective.
- B. The cost of material, which is used solely in performing indirect functions or is not a significant element of production cost, will be allocated to an indirect cost pool.
- C. The first-in, first-out (FIFO) method will be used when issuing material from Northwest Indian College-owned bookstore inventory.

633 Depreciation

- A. Since a government fund's activity statement reports the sources and used for financial resource, depreciation is not recorded in a funds activity statement. However, depreciation will be reflected in an entity's cost.
- B. The cost of building is depreciated on the straight-line methods over periods of 10 to 40 years. The cost of equipment depreciated on the straight-line method over periods from 3 to 10 years.
- C. Depreciation will be recorded as required by GASB 35.

637 Disposition of Assets, Gain or loss on

Gains and losses from the sale, retirement or other disposition of depreciable property are to be included in the year in which they occur as credits or charges to the cost grouping(s) in which the depreciation or amortization applicable to those assets was included. The gain or loss for each asset disposed of is the difference between the net amount realized, including insurance proceeds from involuntary conversions, and its undepreciated balance.

641 Service Lives of Tangible Capital Assets for Depreciation Purposes

Northwest Indian College will observe the estimated service lives as contained in IRS Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System/Asset Depreciation Ranges capital asset or group of assets.

Northwest Indian College will maintain supporting records showing acquisition, use and disposition of each tangible capital asset or group of assets.

645 Use Allowance on Fully Depreciated Assets

- A. Northwest Indian College may observe a use allowance on fully depreciated assets obtained under an advance agreement required by Attachment B or OMB Circular A-87.
- B. Accounting for such a use allowance may be performed using memorandum accounts or supplemental records.

647 Purchased Computer Software Licenses

Purchased computer software of more than $5,000.00 is amortized by the straight-line method over the period expected to be benefited, which is generally five to eight years.

The costs to acquire licenses of certain computer software products are capitalized and amortized using the straight-line method over seven years. Certain provisions of these and other agreements require royalty payments when the Northwest Indian College recognizes revenue from licensing the products to its funding sources. These royalty payments are included in revenue, support and management and general expenses.

651 Leases, Accounting for

- A. Northwest Indian College will observe rules regarding an operating lease vs. a capital lease, contained in GASB 13 and, if it doesn't conflict, Statement on Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 13. If, according to SFAS 13, it is determined that a capital lease exists, as share of such lease payment will be capitalized and amortized over the life of the lease or the useful life of the asset, whichever is longer.
- B. In the case of long-term leases, the portion of any lease payments that represents the finance costs under an alternate acquisition will be treated as an unallowable cost.
- C. The maximum amount of cost recovery on a lease with an affiliated division or subsidiary under common control will be the amount allowed had the Northwest Indian College retained title. Thus, only the cost of depreciation, taxes, operations and maintenance costs, excluding interest, are allowable.
- D. If the rental increases in an operating lease are considered to be systematic and rational, rental expenditures should be recognized in accordance with the lease agreement.

653 Lease Abatements

For leases with an escalating rental payment schedule, Northwest Indian College will amortize the total lease payments over the term of the lease on a straight-line basis, to be in conformance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 13.

Lease payments will be reflected at the actual rate of cash payment.

655 Compensated Personal Absences, Accounting for

- A. In conformance with GASB Statement no. 16, the cost of earned, but untaken vacation will be accrued when earned, not when taken. The cost of all other compensated absences for illness, personal leave, etc., will be reflected when taken.

657 Deferred Compensation

The cost of deferred compensation will be assigned to the cost accounting period in which Northwest Indian College incurs an obligation to compensate the employee. In the event no obligation is incurred prior to payment, the cost of the deferred compensation will be the amount actually paid and will be assigned to the cost accounting period in which the payment is paid. The measurement of the amount of the cost of deferred compensation should be the present value of the future benefits to be paid by Northwest Indian College.

659 Temporary Labor

- A. The cost of all temporary labor incurred specifically for a grant, bid and proposal, independent research and development, or other final cost objective will be treated as direct labor.
- B. All temporary labor benefiting more than one grant will be treated as an indirect cost.

663 Insurance

- A. Northwest Indian College will obtain adequate insurance coverage from purchased insurance.
- B. In circumstances where Northwest Indian College's management considers prudent, Northwest Indian College will assume the risk of loss. The cost of such self-insurance will be the projected average loss for that period plus insurance administration expenses in that period.
- C. Project average loss will be computed annually for all classes of risk or for each type of self-insured risk based upon the cost or comparable cost of purchased Insurance; data reflecting the grantee's experience, industry experience and anticipated conditions; or as a last resort, based on the actual amount of losses incurred.
- D. Northwest Indian College insurance is purchased with all Lummi Indian Business Council tribal entities in an attempt to maximize insurance cost savings.
- E. Northwest Indian College will maintain records to substantiate the amounts of premiums, refunds, dividends losses and self-insurance charges, paid or accrued.

665 Interest Capitalized

Northwest Indian College charges to the cost of construction projects the cost of related interest incurred during the period of construction. These costs are amortized over the useful lives of the projects.

667 Bid and Proposal Costs

The costs of the technical effort in preparing grant applications and cost proposals to the funding sources of Northwest Indian College will be treated as a management cost. The cost of work processing, printing, packaging and delivering grant applications/contract proposals will be charged as a management expense.

669 Match, Accounting for

Given the way program match was bid on each program or grant, the accounting system will accumulate and report related costs, distinguishing between agency-paid, donated services, space or equipment and any program income authorized to be treated as match.

673 Subletting, Proceeds from

The extent the application is equitable and consistent, the proceeds of all subletting or short-term rental of the College's space, equipment or facilities will be credited to the cost center to which the underlying costs were originally charged.

SECTION 700 COST ESTMIATING POLICIES

701 Responsibility for Cost Estimating

Cost estimates for NWIC proposals to its funding sources will be prepared in a collaboration between the Finance Director (Institutional Funds) and/or Grants Manger and the individual or groups writing the proposal.

703 Authorized Cost Estimating Techniques

- A. NWIC Cost Proposals will be prepared using the following cost estimating techniques: An estimate will be made of the funding source's budget, NWIC standard costs and then comparing with similar grant work and cost experience with the proposed product or service.
- B. The estimating method will be periodically reviewed for its accuracy and reliability, and appropriate adjustments made as warranted.

705 Cost Accounting System Support For Estimating

- A. The Accounting system of NWIC will contain sufficient refinements to provide data for cost estimating purposes.
- B. Cost breakdowns are to be available for:
 - 1. Salaries by NWIC categories, with director judgment of person hours required.
 - 2. Inflation escalators.
 - 3. Separate costing for each other direct cost: travel, supplies, training, maintenance of machines.
 - 4) Current overhead rate.

707 Estimating Labor Rates

- A. As a baseline, all labor rates will be based upon rates paid to employees for the most recent month.
- B. The Director of Human Resources will maintain and publish standard composite data on merit increase, changes in salary rates due to new hires/separation, and any anticipated changes resulting from across-the-board salary changes.

709 Purchased Material Cost

For anticipated purchase of materials or parts, NWIC will use catalog prices or if unavailable, NWIC will obtain at least two vendor quotes.

711 Subcontractor Costing

- A. All subcontractors will be procured, to the maximum extent feasible, using competitive procedures with awards to qualified firms whose price and technical factors are most advantageous to the organization/U.S. government.
- B. For those acquisitions to be awarded on a noncompetitive basis, Northwest Indian College will obtain and furnish a copy of the proposed subcontractor's cost or price proposal with its price proposal.
- C. For all subcontracts over $100,000, Northwest Indian College will either perform an audit of the proposed sub-grantee's price proposal or request field pricing support from its cognizant audit agency.

713 Costing Other Direct Costs

- A. For each "other direct cost" (ODC) proposed, the organization's cost analysts will compile historical data from similar grants or obtain technical input on the anticipated costs for such items on the anticipated grant.
- B. For all ODCs involving sub-grant activity, Northwest Indian College will obtain a sufficient number of quotes to establish a fair and reasonable price for the material or service.
- C. The organization will not bid certain costs as direct if, in like circumstances, such costs are also being bid on other grants as indirect costs.

715 Estimating Per Diem Rates

NWIC will use IRS travel per diems

719 Forecasting Inflation

Northwest Indian College will use the Consumer Price Index for its estimates of costs over a multi-period basis.

721 Management Fee or Allowance

Nothing precludes Northwest Indian College from bidding and billing for a reasonable management fee or allowance on a government grant. As circumstances permit, Northwest Indian College will bid a fee of 5% of allowable direct and indirect costs. This practice can be justified because of the need for funds for working capital accumulation, paying for the unamortized portion of depreciable costs, plant or office expansion and covering of necessary, but unallowable, costs, like interest.

723 Cost Proposal Support

In support of each cost proposal submitted to the government, the Northwest Indian College grant writer will have detailed supporting information showing:

1. The basis for establishing the source and reasonableness of price for all acquisitions of materials.
2. A time-phased breakdown of the labor hours, rates and labor category and the basis for labor estimates.
3. Budgetary support for proposed indirect costs rate(s) for indirect costs and the base of allocation, by fiscal year.
4. Basis for pricing all other direct costs.
5. Copies of all quotations and sub-grant price proposals received, whether accepted or not.

902 Wage and Salary Schedule

- A. Northwest Indian College maintains wage and salary structures as may be necessary and required of the various classifications of employees at the College. Each wage and salary structure shall have the grades and steps necessary to provide appropriate placement for NWIC employees. This structure and the component grades are built upon designated knowledge, skills and abilities (KSAs). The salaries and grades are annually evaluated for relevance and comparability with these component KSAs.
- B. Reflecting these policies, the salary structure of Northwest Indian College is presented at Appendix A in the NWIC Personnel Policy Manual. Changes in the salary structure shall be approved by the College's Board of Trustees.

Currently the salary schedules are for:

Part-Time faculty will not receive their final paycheck if their grades are not submitted to enrollment by the deadline. The final check of the quarter will not be a direct deposit. The hard check will be distributing once payroll receives confirmation of the final grade from the enrollment department.

903 Survey of Salaries of Key Officials

At minimum of every 5 years, Northwest Indian College will survey comparable data of Fair Labor Standards Act-exempt position-holders in the labor market area. This survey data should be obtained from comparable organizations, with the appropriate same number of employees and revenue level in the local geographic area. This survey should especially seek to obtain salary data from comparable grantees. The results of this salary survey should be used to periodically adjust to the College's salaries and be maintained on file.

906 Estimating Labor Charges

In preparing payroll, time cards/timesheets are to be collected on every other Friday on the opposite week as payday. The time between the collection of time cards/timesheets and the end of the payroll period will be one week.

907 Effort Reporting

The Federal government requires an effort report when an individual is compensated by or has agreed to contribute time to a federally sponsored project. All faculty and staff that are paid on a sponsored agreement are responsible to certify the amount of effort that they spent on sponsored activities.

Time and effort reporting is a Federal requirement (OMB Uniform Guidance) to ensure that individuals confirm “after-the-fact” any effort they have expended on federally funded activities. The reports are used in the audit process to ensure compliance with the level of effort agreed to in the award document and/or to document any cost sharing effort.

All individuals paid from either Federal or Federal Flow-through funds must complete a time and effort report according to the grant agency’s requirements. Personnel that have received compensation from Federal sources must certify that they have expended effort on the federally funded project, at a minimum, in the same percentage amount that they have paid or have agreed to cost share.

In addition to fulfilling audit and compliance requirements of Federal granting agencies, time and effort reporting is provided to the College’s public accounting firm and is subject to OMB Uniform Guidance. The issuance of quarterly Time and Effort reports will be done by the Grants Accountant. All reports must be signed by the PI or Project Director.

908 Payroll Advance

In accordance of the NWIC HR Personnel Policy Manual Section 10.15 Payroll Advances employees are eligible to receive payroll advances for unforeseen emergencies.

909 Uncompensated Overtime for Fair Labor Standards Act-Exempt Personnel

- A. Employees whether exempt or non-exempt will record all hours worked as it related to time and effort reports for grant related salaries.
- B. For time worked beyond forty (40) hours in a pay period, the hourly pay rate of exempt employees will be disregarded if not material.

910 Exempt vs. Non-Exempt Personnel

- A. In compliance with 20 CFR 541.101, the following executives and managers will be considered exempt from payment of overtime premium pay under the executive exemption of the Fair Labor Standards Act:
 - All positions designed as Exempt Management
- B. In compliance with:
 - The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) exempts from its minimum wage and overtime standards employees who qualify as executive employees. 29 USC

Compensatory time computed at time-and-one-half to be taken during the same two week pay period may also be offered.

D. Authorization for all overtime must be obtained from each employee's supervisor.

911 Fair Labor Standards Act Record Retention

Every employer covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) must keep certain records for each covered, nonexempt worker. There is no required form for the records, but the records must include accurate information about the employee and data about the hours worked and the wages earned. The following is a listing of the basic records that an employer must maintain:

- Employee's full name and social security number;
- Address, including zip code;
- Birth date, if younger than 19;
- Sex and occupation;
- Time and day of week when employee's workweek begins. Hours worked each day and total hours worked each workweek.

- B. Invoices or billings submitted by consultants, including sufficient detail as to the time expended and nature of the actual services performed, and
- C. Consultant's work products and related documents, such as trip reports indicating persons visited and subjects discussed, minutes of meetings, and collateral memoranda and reports.

913 Independent Contractors, Control of

The use of consultants will be closely monitored so as not to vary from the rules of the Internal Revenue Service. The Budget Authority will refer to the IRS 20-point checklist for independent contractors:

1. Profit or loss. Can the worker make a profit or suffer a loss as a result of the work, aside from the money earned from the project? (This should involve real economic risk-not just the risk of not getting paid.)
2. Investment. Does the worker have an investment in the equipment and facilities used to do the work? (The greater the investment, the more likely independent contractor status.)
3. Works for more than one firm. Does the person work for more than one company at a time? (This tends to indicate independent contractor status, but isn't conclusive since employees can also work for more than one employer.)
4. Services offered to the general public. Does the worker offer services to the general public?
5. Instructions. Do you have the right to give the worker instructions about when, where, and how to work? (This shows control over the worker.)
6. Training. Do you train the worker to do the job in a particular way? (Independent contractors are already trained.)

7. Integration. Are the worker's services so important to your business that they have become a necessary part of the business? (This may show that the worker is subject to your control.)
8. Services rendered personally. Must the worker provide the services personally, as opposed to delegating tasks to someone else? (This indicates that you are interested in the methods employed, and not just the results.)
9. Hiring assistants. Do you hire, supervise, and pay the worker's assistants? (Independent contractors hire and pay their own staff.)
10. Continuing relationship. Is there an ongoing relationship between the worker and yourself? (A relationship can be considered ongoing if services are performed frequently, but irregularly.)
11. Work hours. Do you set the worker's hours? (Independent contractors are masters of their own time.)
12. Full-time work. Must the worker spend all of his or her time on your job? (Independent contractors choose when and where they will work.)
13. Work done on premises. Must the individual work on your premises, or do you control the route or location where the work must be performed? (Answering no doesn't by itself mean independent contractor status.)
14. Sequence. Do you have the right to determine the order in which services are performed? (This shows control over the worker)
15. Reports. Must the worker give you reports accounting for his or her actions? (This may show lack of independence)
16. Pay Schedules. Do you pay the worker by hour, week, or month? (Independent contractors are generally paid by the job or commission, although by industry practice, some are paid by the hour.)
17. Expenses. Do you pay the worker's business or travel costs? (This tends to show control.)
18. Tools and materials. Do you provide the worker with equipment, tools, or materials? (Independent contractors generally supply the materials for the job and use their own tools and equipment.)
19. Right to fire. Can you fire the worker? (An independent contractor can't be fired without subjecting you to the risk of breach of contract lawsuit.)
20. Worker's right to quit. Can the worker quit at any time, without incurring liability? (An independent contractor has a legal obligation to complete the contract.)

914 Cultural Honorariums

Cultural Honorariums are tax exempt based on following the IRS guidelines under the Tribal General Welfare Exclusion Act of 2014 (Act) adds Section 139E to the Internal Revenue Code. - The program is administered under specific guidelines and does not discriminate in favor of members of the governing body of the tribe.
- The benefits provided under the program are
 - available to any tribal member who meets the guidelines;
 - for the promotion of general welfare;

- not lavish and extravagant; and

 - 3. If an Indian tribal government provides a benefit meeting the criteria specified in section 5.03, the Service will conclusively presume that individual need is met for each tribal member or qualified nonmember receiving the benefit and that the benefit does not represent compensation for services.
 - 4. All cultural honorariums payments shall be documented by a receipt signed by the recipient.

Competitive bids will be required on all purchases of goods or services in excess of $250,000 or as defined by the major purchase federal threshold, whichever is greater. Proper advertisement and solicitation in compliance with all federal requirements must be adhered to and documented properly. Federal procurement rules require sealed bids and an evaluation committee. Copies of all correspondence, advertisement, solicitations, bid selection, etc. must be copied to the Accounting Office. Competitive bids will include a procurement narrative, timeline, solicitation request, special conditions and or terms and basis for evaluation of submissions. The approved budget authority is responsible for monitoring contractor performance. Competitive bids will be required for purchases of services with federal funds subject to federal requirements. The President will request competitive bids as deemed appropriate for non-federal purchases of services. At the discretion of the President or delegate, bids may be required for items procured under the threshold for bidding. In all cases, care shall be taken to assure NWIC is procuring items that are of quality at reasonable prices. NWIC policy is to procure goods and services locally if prices and quality is similar in nature.

All Construction/Renovation projects are subject to Indian Preference consideration, in compliance with relevant Tribal TEO Ordinance

Good and/or services that exceed $10,000 but do not exceed $250,000. For all purchases of goods or services exceeding $10,000 but less than $250,000, NWIC shall attempt to obtain multiple cost estimates through competitive public advertisement or through a bid solicitation process. In either process, NWIC shall accept the lowest responsible proposal that is in the best interest of NWIC. NWIC is not mandated or required to simply select the cheapest or lowest bid/proposal since such bid may not be in NWIC best interest for other legitimate business reasons. NWIC shall utilize the appropriate form contract that has been prepared by staff, reviewed by NWIC legal counsel and executed by NWIC Chief Financial Officer.

ALL PAPERWORK IN RESPECT TO THE SOLICITATION PROCESS MUST BE KEPT AND ATTACHED TO FINAL PAPERWORK (AND BE SUBMITTED TO ACCOUNTING OFFICE), INCLUDING DOCUMENTATION AS TO WHY VENDOR WAS SELECTED.

- A. Competitive public advertisement. If NWIC chooses to utilize a public advertisement process, the advertisement (which must be remitted for approval through the Office of the President) shall provide the following:
1. A clear and accurate description of the specifications or technical requirements for the good, material, product, or service desired. The description shall not be designed to limit competitive solicitation from multiple vendors.
 2. Requirements that the bidder must fulfill and all other factors to be used in evaluating bids and/or proposals including, but not limited to, bid or performance bonds, past experience with similar goods or services, previous successful performance for [Name] and/or vendor's past experience, expertise or financial stability.
 3. A description of the technical requirements in terms of functions to be performed or performance required, including the range of acceptable characteristics or minimum acceptable standards.
 4. The specific features of "brand name or equal" descriptions that bidders are required to meet.
 5. Preference, to the extent practical and economically feasible, for products and services that conserve natural resources and protect the environment and are energy efficient.
 6. Positive efforts shall be made to utilize small-business, minority-owned firms and women's business enterprises, when not prohibited by federal or tribal law.
- B. Solicitation of bids. If NWIC chooses to solicit bids, NWIC shall:
1. Obtain or attempt to obtain a minimum of (2) written bids.
 2. Provide each vendor the same precise and accurate description of the specifications and technical requirements for the good or service sought.
 3. Accept written bids by mail, fax or email. All written bids must be signed/e-mailed by an authorized representative of the vendor.
 4. Prepare a Vendor Selection Form that details each bid received. A copy of the completed form and all written bids must be attached to the selected vendor's invoice and submitted to the President's Office for final selection and approval.
 5. Consider lease options, if available and prepare an analysis of the lease versus purchase option to determine the alternative that is most economical and practical form of procurement that is in NWIC best interest.

In the event we are unable to obtain multiple responses it is important to document the process and the results.

NWIC realizes that not all goods or services can be obtained from multiple sources. It is the responsibility of the Budget Authority to meet with the Accounting Office staff to determine if bids are necessary. The Procurement Practice of NWIC is to make sure all purchases are for necessary expenses at optimum price.

1003 Other Procurement

Purchase order requests (PO) contracts for services (CS) are to be remitted to a program director/administrator for procurement of a service or good (such as generic items) from a particular program. This request should include a justification as to the need for the goods and, if requesting a particular vendor, a justification for the source selection. A purchase order request must be signed by the approved budget authority before the accounting department can process it. A PO must be signed by an official or delegate of the accounting department for it to be valid. No one can incur any obligation to NWIC without a properly approved PO or CS.

There may be times when a member of NWIC management deems it necessary to obligate funds for a purchase without a valid PO or CS.

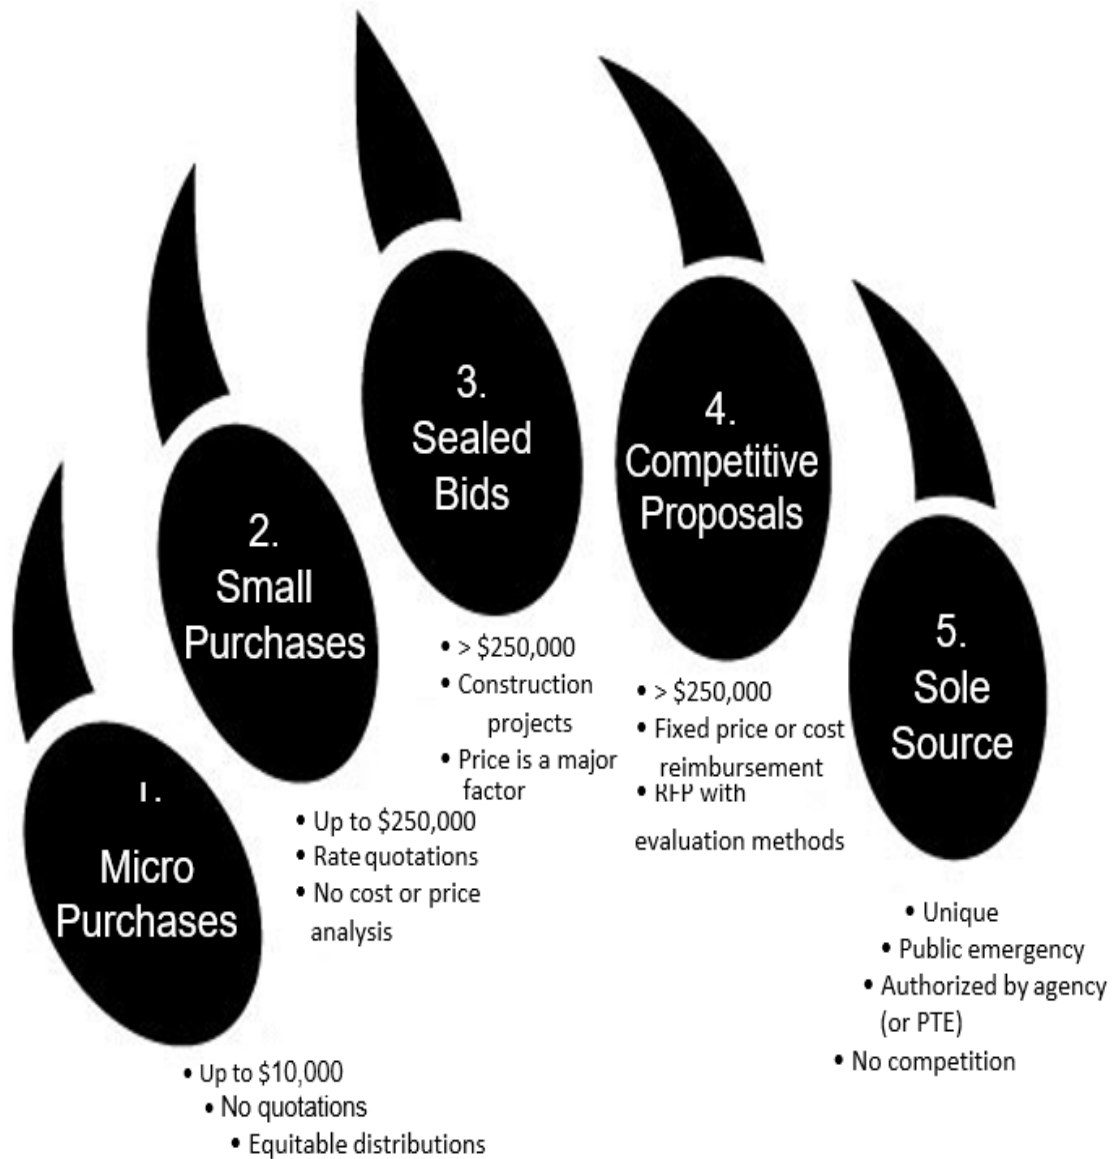

This is done at the procurer's own risk, as NWIC administration is not obligated to provide funds for any expenses without proper documentation and prior approval. POs are not required for ordinary operating expenses, such as utilities, telephone, maintenance contracts, etc.

Payments are made to vendors/contractors based upon valid support documentation. Payments will be made based upon receipt of a valid invoice, funding availability and the timeline of the accounting office for payment. Payments will not be made from statements but will be invoice based.

F. Safety & Liability

NWIC employees should travel with utmost care for safety when traveling for college-related travel, not only for their own personal safety and for the safety of college property, but also for minimization of college liability in the event of an accident.

1. NWIC employees shall abide by the following safety requirements while operating any vehicle for college-related travel.

a. Comply with all State, Local and Tribal traffic laws and the lawful instruction of emergency and law enforcement personnel.

G. Passengers

1. Transportation of students

a. Student passengers are permitted in college vehicles for student related activities.

b. Transportation of student passengers is not encouraged in an employee's personal vehicles, as the personal insurance of the driver is the primary responding insurance coverage, thereby incurring potential personal liability for the employee(s).

 3. A valid driver's license is provided in sufficient time to verify the individual is insurable by the NWIC insurance carrier.
